

A Portrait of Tallis

Tallis close up

My Proposal : Thomas Tallis school is more than a building, I decided to blur the background and choose close ups that tell you about all the creative things that are happening. The main picture was blurred because it is the small things that are important - an idea, a note on the piano, a song on a Ipod, a twist of wire for a sculpture, a finger taking a picture ...